

addressing the legacy of colonial slavery and industrial exploitation

MJR's aim is to raise awareness of the legacies of colonial slavery and industrial exploitation by gathering existing and commissioning new research, making the findings known through educational projects and seeking to resolve injustice, promote well-being and encourage community reconciliation in new and innovative ways.

MJR is a Christian organisation. We believe it is the Creator's unconditional, loving intention that all people, regardless of background, beliefs, ethnicity, gender or sexuality, should have the right to justice, dignity, skills, equality and a chance to work and hope for the future.

There comes a point where we need to stop just pulling people out of the river. We need to go upstream and find out why they're falling in.

Desmond Tutu

Denial of access to those rights through limited opportunity or oppression is a violation of this intention. Such is the continuing legacy of colonial slavery and industrial exploitation in our society.
